A 'Shawshank Redemption' Christmas

Author : Ellis Washington

Date : December 5, 2011

During this blessed season of Advent, I usually write a Christmas essay. This year, however, due to the extreme need to restore moral, competent and constitutional leadership in office at all levels of government, I am considering writing several essays on various aspects of the eternal Christmas story. It is my prayer that we return to a republic founded under God that will help redeem America and eventually the world away from global socialism, liberal fascism and voluntary genocide; to move society back to reason, liberty, market capitalism, natural law and to the love of God in Christ Jesus.

Click here to read the article at World Net Daily